

Janiece J. Sneegas

Jan has worked in the meeting planning industry for nineteen years, first for the American Therapeutic Recreation Association, a non-profit professional association, and for the past thirteen years as the Director of General Assembly and Conference Services for the Unitarian Universalist Association, a liberal religious denomination. Beginning in 2004, Jan has demonstrated a commitment to environmental sustainability through working to green the UUA's General Assembly. She served on the board of the Green Meetings Industry Council 2007 - 2011. Jan participated as a member of the Green Meetings and Events Practice Panel for the APEX/ASTM Standards for Environmentally Sustainable Meetings. She holds a doctorate in Leisure Studies from the University of Illinois where she also served on the faculty.
